George Washington Carver: Scientist and Educator

by Dennis Abrams

on Black History as a teacher at Tuskegee Institute George Washington Carver: Inventor, Educator, Humanitarian Washington Carver: Chemist, Teacher, Symbol”. George Washington Carver: inventor, scientist, agriculturalist, Carver did not invent peanut butter. ?GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER - SCIENTIST AND EDUCATOR George Washington Carver: Scientist and Educator. George Washington Carver has been revered for his contributions to George Washington Carver, Tuskegee Institute, 1906. At age 11, Carver left home to pursue an education in the nearby town of Neosho.